OPOTOWSKYS PURCHASE SEA COAST ECHO

Observations..

By UDELL

On July 18, 1953, the Sea Coast Echo will be purchased by Stan and Mel Opotowsky of New Orleans. We, the members of the Favre family, wish to thank each and everyone of our advertisers, subscribers and employees for their kindness during the past 12 years. Without your help, we would never have succeeded in this venture.

Particularly we want to thank all who helped us following the death of our father. It is these memories of kindness and these friendships that we will cherish in the future. We hope that during our service to the community our efforts have not been in vain and we know that the new publishers will continue to work for the betterment of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County. We hope that you will show them the same consideration and willingness to cooperate as you have shown us in the past.

We wish to congratulate John D. Rutherford Jr., member of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 of the American Legion, on his election as Commander of the Seventeenth District. This is the first time any member of the local post has ever been elected to such a high office. Commander Rutherford has been active during his membership in the post, having served as first vice-commander of the post in 1946. He has received Legion Stars for his activity as membership drive chairman from 1946 to 1952, and served as the building committee chairman since 1947. The local post was also presented a cup, for its high percentage of membership, at the annual convention held in Biloxi July 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9.

Officials of the City of Bay St. Louis are planning a meeting with Dr. Blane, superintendent of the New Orleans to Montgomery division of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, in an effort to get the railroad to have all existing trains scheduled to stop in Bay St. Louis in order to provide adequate transportation. This was brought about when the L & N removed several of the commuters trains from their schedule. There are 12 trains to and from New Orleans passing through Bay St. Louis daily. Four of these trains do not stop here. Letters have been received from the American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, Property Owners Association, Rotary Club, Gulf Coast Association and Bay St. Louis Lions Club. The meeting is scheduled for next Thursday or Friday.

This is the last week for the publication of Ordinance 133, providing for zoning of 1000 feet from the North side of deMontuzin avenue to the 1000 feet back on each street past the new highway in the City Limits through Cedar Point. What we would like to know, now that we have studied this complicated ordinance, is what happens to the people who own homes past the 1000 feet that are zoned. Do we have any protection whatever. We were under the impression that when this zoning ordinance was to be drawn up by the Property Owners Association, it would take all of the Property Owners into consideration and not just a few of them. Everyone does not live on the Beach and in that first 1000 feet, but they would like to have some protection as well, their property is as good as everyone else's. We understand that a comprehensive zoning ordinance would provide zoning laws for the City of Bay St. Louis as a whole and not just a part of it. In reality it is just a protection for those people living near the highway because the other parts that come under this ordinance are mostly residential and have little room left for business to build. Is this fair? Other property owners in Bay St. Louis pay their taxes as well as the people from deMontuzin avenue to Cedar Point, who own property within the first 1000 feet of these streets.

The City has spent a lot of money in getting this ordinance published, but we sincerely hope that it will not pass. If a zoning ordinance is to go into effect, why not make it one that will be fair to all taxpayers? We are strictly in accord with zoning, but not this type. It takes care of a few and lets the others

Bay Juniors Lose

The Bay Juniors Baseball squad played St. Claude's Hardware in Pelican Stadium Tuesday night and came out on the short end of a 1 to 0 score.

It was a perfectly pitched ball game as St. Claude got only one hit off Mattis while the Jrs. failed to collect a hit.

The Jrs. now have a record of 5 wins and 4 losses for the season. Through an invitation from Joe Brown, general manager of the Pels, the boys got to see the 17 inning contest which the home team won by a 3 to 2 score.

The Bay has more games scheduled so let's get out and give them the support they deserve.

The young ladies at the Buena Vista registered and had lunch.

Short speeches of interest to local Legionnaires were delivered. Colonel Wink spoke at length on certain inequalities practiced in the U. Navy, citing a particular case involving an Admiral, a Chaplain and a Lt. Commander. Jerry McDaniels of Gulfport, in which the lowest man involved was glamed in the case. ORDINANCE NO. 133
An Ordinance of the City of Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi to prohibit the erection or construction of any filling station, tourist camp, or any building or structure to be used for any business, trade, industry, or commerce, and prohibiting the placing, erection or construction of any sign, billboard or poster (except for rent or for sale, and under the construction and erection by the City of Bay Saint Louis of any sign, which advertises the said City) and prohibiting the operation for tourists, transients or the public generally, directly or indirectly, a parking space for hire, in the area within said City described as follows:

Beginning at the point where a continuation of the line between Lots Nos. 391 and 436 of the First Ward of the City of Bay Saint Louis intersects the first channel from the West shore of the Bay of Saint Louis; running thence N. 70 degrees W. to the North East corner of Lot No. 1 of Beach Front Subdivision, said lot being owned by Geraldine Ames et al.; thence Southerly along the western line of Front Street or North Boulevard to the northern line of deMontuzin Avenue; thence Westerly along said line of said avenue to the eastern line of Second St., thence Northerly along the eastern line of Second St. to a point 100 feet North of the northern line of U. S. Highway 90, now under construction, thence in a westerly direction along a line parallel with the said northern boundary of the said highway right of way, to a point 1000 feet distant from Front Street or North Boulevard, measured at right angles to said street or boulevard; thence Northerly and north-westerly, parallel to and always 1000 feet from said Front Street or North Beach Boulevard, to the corporation line of the City of Bay Saint Louis; being the range line between Ranges 14 and 13 West; thence North along said range line in the first channel in the Bay of Saint Louis; thence following said channel, easterly and southerly, to the place of beginning, (excepting therefrom the land lying between a line 139 feet North of the north margin of Uman Avenue and a line 127 feet south of the south margin of Uman Avenue.)

SECTION 1: Be it Ordained by the Mayor and Board of Commissioners of the City of Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, That said Mayor and Board of Commissioners find and adjudge that said City is a municipality existing in Hancock County, Mississippi, having a population in excess of 1000 inhabitants, and that said Mayor and Board of Commissioners constitute the legislative body of said municipality and are empowered under the provisions of the Laws of Mississippi including Title 16 of the Mississippi Code of 1952, to regulate the height, number of stories and size of buildings and other structures; the percentage of lot that may be occupied; the size of yards, courts and other open spaces; the density of population and the location and use of buildings, structures and land for trade, industry, residence or other purposes; and that it is necessary and to the best interest of the City, to lessen congestion in the streets, to secure safety from fire, panic and other dangers; to provide adequate light and air; to prevent the over-crowding of land; to avoid undue concentration of population; to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, schools, parks and other requirements; and having considered, among other things, to the character of the district and its peculiar suitability for particular uses, and with a view to conserving the value of buildings and property, and encouraging the most appropriate use of land throughout such municipality; that the authority in said Mayor and Board of Commissioners under said laws of Mississippi, including Title 16 of the Mississippi Code of 1952, be exercised and enforced as to the area within the corporate limits of said municipality, and that the use and conditions of occupancy and occupancy of land for trade, industry, residence, and other purposes within such area be regulated within said area.

The Mayor and Board of Commissioners further find and adjudge that the area hereinafter described is one of the two largest and most exclusive residential sections of the City of Bay Saint Louis; that a new highway bridge across the Bay of Saint Louis (which forms part of U. S. Highway No. 90, the most important highway serving said city), is being constructed in said area at a new location and it has come to the attention of the Mayor and Board of Commissioners that certain persons are planning to build and operate commercial ventures in said area, which, if permitted, will be highly detrimental to the best interests of said city and especially of the area hereinafter described. The Mayor and Board of Commissioners further find and adjudge that the adoption of a comprehensive zoning ordinance for all said city is under consideration by said Mayor and Board of Commissioners but considerable delay must necessarily be incurred before the same can be finally enacted, and that if the zoning regulations contained in this ordinance are not adopted and enforced in the said described area, before the comprehensive zoning ordinance can be finally enacted, the said area will be subjected to the same as the area within said City described as follows:

Bid System Under Which Counties Purchase Items Said "Outmoded"

The bid system under which Mississippi counties are now legally required to make purchases is outmoded, resulting in a continual "open season" at the courthouse for salesmen who, in following the system, can sell to numerous officials in varied positions.

That is one of the conclusions of the two-year study of county government by the Mississippi Economic Council, which says the "archaic system" combined with normal human weaknesses costs the taxpayers unnecessary money. The Council sees nothing wrong in receiving bids, but believes that setting up a central purchasing system under the direction of a "county controller" to be the fiscal agent, would generally improve the situation. The fiscal agent would act as secretary to the board of supervisors, and be in charge of maintaining, supplying and equipping the general county offices.

Under such a plan, the various county officials would requisition their supplies through the fiscal agent, who would be able to know prices, specifications, present supplies, and general need of county offices. At least the buying would be coordinated, the report states.

While under present law the board is authorized to make purchases, actually in many counties no less than eleven elected officials are given authority to buy: supervisors, tax assessor, chancery and circuit clerks, superintendent of education, sheriff-tax collector, and the county attorney. In numerous cases, other persons such as deputy officials and building custodians with little control are authorized by the board to purchase.

"Under law, county purchasing is only in an emergency—but there is no clear statutory definition of 'emergency'." These emergency purchases, without bids, can be for no more than $100, or $250 in the case of contract for work. This board is required to let bids for all county supplies and equipment, for periods not to exceed twelve months. It is charged with determining the "lowest and best" bidder on each item. But determining just who is the lowest bidder apparently depends on many factors subject to errors.

ordinance was adopted, ordained and passed; the vote on final passage being as follows: Warren, J. Carver, J. Cyril Glover, and Sylvan J. Ladner Jr., voting yea in favor thereof; voting nay, none.

Whereupon said ordinance was declared duly passed, ordained and adopted.

Safety Is Everybody's Business According To Hancock County Coordinating Council

Twenty-nine persons were reported killed as a result of motor vehicle traffic accidents in Mississippi during May, 1953. Twenty-six of this total occurred in rural areas. The total in Mississippi represents an increase of four, or an increase of 16 per cent over the total of 25 killed during May, 1952.

Four pedestrians were killed and 32 injured as compared to 4 killed and 10 injured the same month last year. Fourteen percent of the traffic deaths in May, 1953 were pedestrians.

These figures were released this week by Col. T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety. It is rather alarming when one realizes more people were killed in the rural areas than in the cities or towns of the State.

This certainly should give rural people something to think about and what can be done to avoid this tremendous loss of life and injuries which occur each month in our rural areas of Mississippi and Hancock County.

IT'S TRUE THAT
Mississippi's tax on malt beverages is the highest in the nation and the beer industry is the state's fifth largest taxpayer, paying Mississippi taxes of over $4 million a year. The beer industry is growing in the Magnolia State largely because of public acceptance of legally regulated beer as the beverage of moderation.

1953 from the Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson calling upon the nation to observe the week beginning July 19th as National Farm Safety Week.

This is the tenth year in which National Farm Safety Week has been sponsored by the National Safety Council and the Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the farm safety activities of States and Counties, the farm organization, farm press and radio and many other groups interested in agriculture.

Calendar for Safety Week, July 19 - 25, 1953

Sunday: What is my responsibility toward the safety of others? A good time to reflect on safe equipment and practices is now. Monday: Home Safety - Do you light your way ahead of you into rooms, or up and down stairways? If you don't, you may be seeing your doctor soon.

Tuesday: Livestock - Do you lead the bull on a staff? If you don't the undertaker has left a blank space in his schedule for your family.

Wednesday: Are your hay lofts floored with securely nailed boards? If not, prepare yourself for a fast trip and a sudden stop.

Thursday: Highway Safety - Do you drive as if your life depends upon it? If yes. If you don't you'd better carry insurance. (Better carry insurance anyway.)

Friday: Machinery - Are all of your safety guards in place? If not, you had better increase your insurance.

Saturday: Review Day - Bulls and tractors are powerful things. Treat them with the respect they deserve.

DID YOU KNOW THAT?
Of the fatal accidents that happened to farm folks in 1951 almost as many occurred in and around the house as in the doing of farm work.

Almost half the accidental injuries happened in and around the house?

Falls rank first, fire injuries second as causes of fatal home accidents?

Facts!

(1) Our nation is only as strong as the combined productive efforts of all our people. Manpower is the basic resource by which all other productive resources are made useful and available.

Agriculture Manpower supplies are limited.

(2) The chances of an Agricultural worker killed on the job are over three times as great as for a worker in manufacturing. In 1951, there were four thousand and five hundred accidental deaths and 125,000 injuries among farm people.

(3) Loss due to accidents, affecting farmers, including property and equipment, is estimated as one billion dollars - more than the total of all farm real estate and personal property taxes in 1949.

(4) During recent years agriculture has made rapid strides in technology. Farm output per man - hour in 1952 was 73 percent higher than the average 1935-39. Effective conservation and utilization of manpower requires that similar progress be made in accident prevention.

(5) A study of one midwestern county revealed that accidents occurred in one year in more than three out of four of the families studied.

(6) 1. Falls.
2. Agricultural Machinery
3. Animals
4. Motor-vehicle accidents still account in the above order, for nearly two out of three accidents of farm residents.

Here are some accidents to Farm People during 1941-1951.

Fatal Accidents
1941-19500
1951-14,500
Non-Fatal
1941-1,500,000
1951-1,250,000.

Injuries among farm families have been reduced according to estimate by the National Safety Council. Note: The farm population has also decreased.

Report From Minnesota Delegate to 4-H Meet

We are printing below a letter from Joe Thrash, Hancock County delegate to Minnesota, as a "Grass Roots" ambassador.

"I left with Mr. Simmons, County Agent, for his home in Columbia, Miss., Sunday afternoon, July 5; from there I left for Jackson early on the morning of the 6th. We left Jackson at 10:30 p.m., traveling directly north to Memphis and on to Arkansas State college where we spent the night.

"Since members of the Mississippi delegation did not know each other, we had a contest in which every 4-H member had to learn the others' names, county and major project before we reached Arkansas.

On July 7, we arrived at St. Louis, Missouri, where we spent the night. While there we visited the Saint Louis Brown's stadium and saw the Cleveland Indians play the Browns. Following the baseball game, the Elks put on a colorful fireworks exhibition.

Methodist college in Dubuque, Iowa, was our stop on July 8.

Enroute we visited Abraham Lincoln's birthplace in Springfield and viewed the Missouri state capitol.

We arrived in Minnesota July 9 and received a warm welcome from residents who took us up on Garvin Heights to view Lake Winona and Winona City. We were then taken to a park where a picnic steak/supper was served. The group sang "Dixie" and a girls quartet of 4-H members sang "We Are Climbing Jacob's Ladder."

Souvenirs of small milking buckets were presented to us by businessmen of Winona City. Following the supper we visited in different homes.

There are nine boys and 18 girls on this trip. We are all enjoying ourselves.

Yours truly,
Joe Thrash.

Mrs. James L. Parsons Jr., and daughter, Susan, left for their home in Birmingham, Ala., following a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois.

Thanks All Who Helped Keep Death from Hi-ways During Holiday Period

Colonel T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety, stated today, "We are very proud of the record which was accomplished during the 4th of July Holiday Period on the streets and highways of Mississippi. In the very few traffic accidents we had—no fatalities occurred on the 4th of July which was Saturday—and only 2 fatal accidents with 3 persons killed for the entire Holiday Period, which was from Friday 6:00 p. m. to Sunday midnight, the best record for a 4th of July Holiday Period in the history of the Patrol. The next best was in 1951, with none killed on the 4th of July, but with 7 killed for the Holiday Period.

Birdsong further stated, "There were more people on our highways this past weekend than during any previous Holiday Period."

With all the many activities going on at the same time, it is almost impossible to believe we got by without a traffic fatality. In our opinion, there are many reasons why this unusually good record was made: (1) Much work was done by all Public Information Media, both on the National and local level. We, therefore, give credit and thanks to the Press, both our local papers, daily and weekly, and the wire services, all the many radio and television programs nationally and locally. The Motion Picture Industry and the Outdoor Advertising Agency played a major part. Many civic agencies held safety programs. All of these played a major part in causing the drivers and pedestrians alike to become safety conscious. (2) All of this was followed by a rigid enforcement program by all Law Enforcement Agencies working together for a safe 4th of July, both City, County and State officers working as a team."

Says Birdsong further, "We certainly want to give credit to each member of the Highway Patrol, who worked night and day endeavoring to keep Ole Man Death from striking, and I certainly feel like our boys working around the clock had much to do with holding these accidents to a minimum."

TROUBLE IN RUSSIA

The anti-Communist world received the news of the ousting of K. P. Beria, one of the Russian rulers, with great interest but mixed emotions. The question on the lips of all students of the Russian System is, "What does this mean?" It could mean one of several things. First, it could mean that a scapegoat must be found for the riots and unrest that prevailed in the Soviet-dominated satellite countries, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Poland, and to lesser degree other satellite countries. Beria, as one of the big three dominating the affairs in Russia following the death of Stalin, was also the head of the dreaded Secret Police and as such was primarily responsible for keeping the people of these satellite countries under control. Naturally, the Russian people are asking some questions themselves as to why these satellite people are revolting. They might reason that if the people of the satellite countries could get by with a revolt, they too could revolt. Therefore, one answer that Malenkov, as the titular head, could give is that Beria was responsible. Secondly, another answer as to the meaning of the demise of the most hated man of all the Russian rulers, the head of the Secret Police, is that the Russian people themselves are on the verge of revolt. They don't like the Russian NKVD anymore than the people of Germany liked the Gestapo. Therefore, the removal of Beria could be an appeasement to the Russian people.

Thirdly, it could mean, as we pointed out in this column, upon the death of Stalin, that once the "king" was dead, there would likely be a scramble for power among those who wanted to succeed the "king." At that time a hasty compromise was effected with Malenkov, Molotov, and Beria assuming joint control, with Malenkov as the nominal head. The question then was how long this setup would operate with the jealousies prevailing within the Kremlin itself. Obviously, this could be, and most likely is, a move on the part of Malenkov and Molotov to remove a powerful contender for the throne with the backing of the great and powerful Secret Police, which could and possibly would send rolling one of the heads of either.

But, regardless of which of these theories is correct, the fact remains that the Kremlin of today is not the powerful Kremlin of Stalin's day. The structure is weakened and most anything can happen. The one great hope for the removal of the Russian menace to a peaceful world is internal dissension within the Kremlin. That hope is brightened.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX
After months of skirmishing and internal dissension in the Republican ranks, President Eisenhower finally prevailed in his fight for a six months extension of the excess profits tax. After blasting the bill out of the Ways and Means Committee over the opposition of the adamant Chairman, 78 year old Daniel A. Reed of New York, the House passed the bill by an overwhelming vote of 325 to 77.

We agree with all of those who characterize the tax as a bad tax. All taxes are bad. But, we went along with the big majority of the members of the House on the theory that since there was to be no tax relief for the little taxpayer, we could not see our way clear to remove this tax from the big corporations. Particularly is this true when we consider the further fact that the Treasury is now faced with a five to ten billion dollar deficit this year to be added to the already stupendous debt of 267 billion dollars.

In the consideration of the application for a closed rule in the Rules Committee we offered an amendment to make in order an exemption up to 100 thousand dollars so as to ease the burden on small corporations. This lost by a tie vote.

FARM SAFETY

Next week is National Farm Safety Week in Mississippi. Here are 10 commandments issued by the National Safety Council for reducing the numbers of farm accidents:

1. Keep machinery in good repair. Keep all guards and safety devices in place.
2. Operate tractors safely. Start smoothly and turn corners slowly; avoid ditches, banks and soft ground.
3. Know and obey all traffic laws—drive a safe car.
4. Be firefrighted—don't smoke around the barn—do not use coal oil or kerosene to start fires. Keep matches out of reach of small children.
5. Speak to animals when approaching them—avoid startling them—they may not—keep that bull in a tight enclosure.
6. Be a good housekeeper—make everything on the farm have a place and keep it in its place.
7. Watch your step to prevent falls. Keep all ladders in good repair—make sure that barn floors have no treacherous holes.
8. Follow safety instructions—Read carefully and follow all printed instructions, especially on insecticides, and farm machinery.
9. Know and obey water safety rules—do not swim alone—know depth of water before diving—sit still in small boats.
10. Apply first aid promptly—Keep first aid kit in your home, on the tractor and in the barn.

COTTON INSECT CONTROL
Proper application of cotton insecticides is a must if best results are to be had. Poor application costs money and will not get the job done.

Applying dusts—All dusts should be applied when the air is calm. This is usually in the late afternoon and first part of night. The dust must stay down among the plants and not rise and drift away. Spouts must be directly above the plants—preferably six to ten inches.

Complete coverage is necessary. You can use any type of cotton duster; however, avoid "Y" or hand dusters. Never depend on drift for coverage. In airplane dusting, the plane should not try to cover wider swaths than the plane's wings. Flaggings is essential. Applying sprays. You can apply sprays at anytime of the day; however, avoid spraying while dew is on the ground as it will dilute the mixture. Sprays can be applied with hand sprayers.

ground machines and airplanes. Always pre-mix concentrate with water before straining into tank.

Strain all materials and water before putting in tank. This will help prevent nozzle stoppage. You must use good stable emulsifiable concentrates. A good mixture will not cream at the top or settle to the bottom. The oil will not separate from the water for at least 24 to 30 minutes after mixing. Check this by mixing a small amount of concentrate with water.

Complete information on applying dust and spray insecticides is on page 12-13 of the 1953 Cotton Insect Control Recommendations, Extension Publication 246, this is available free at your County Agents Office.

Dairymen should save all roughage possible in the best form that they can. Much of the corn that was drouth damaged can be saved as silage or cut and shocked for stover.

Roughage is vital to the well being and good production of a milking cow. Save all you can—either as hay or silage. If you cannot get hay baled, cut and stack it or cure and haul to the barn and store loose. Cows should have access to all good quality hay they will eat.

Complete information on applying dust and spray insecticides is on page 12-13 of the 1953 Cotton Insect Control Recommendations, Extension Publication 246, this is available free at your County Agents Office.

Putting Down Roots in Mississippi

Not many years ago Mississippi had millions of acres of desolate, cut-over land . . . ill suited for the growing of row crops. These useless, unproductive acres contributed almost nothing to the income or future stability of the state.

But this picture is changing. Enlightened groups and individuals — in cooperation with the Mississippi Forestry Association — have encouraged Mississippi farmers and land owners to reforest millions of these acres of privately owned land.

With idle acres at work growing trees . . . Mississippi's wood using industries are assured of a future source of supply. As a result, these industries are becoming more deeply rooted to their adopted locations.

Most citizens are conscious of the contribution our forest industries are making to the economic welfare of Mississippi. They also know that the future expansion of our forest industries can be encouraged in an atmosphere of fair and friendly cooperation on the part of this state and its citizens.

SEE US BEFORE YOU TRADE ON A REFRIGERATOR

Let's Talk Sense On Refrigerators

If you're like the average person, the chances are you'll buy several refrigerators during the course of a lifetime. For most Americans a refrigerator is a necessity, and we all like the convenience of a refrigerator in this warm climate.

Nowadays there's so much ballyhoo in the advertising of refrigerators that it confuses most people. Some dealers offer premiums, others offer fabulous so called "trade-in allowances." Most people are too smart to be fooled by any "give-away" deals; but it all boils down to this. When you buy your refrigerator, look for three things. First, a leading brand of refrigerator made by a well-known manufacturer, Secondly, buy from an established local dealer that you known will back up his merchandise in every respect. Third, work out a satisfactory purchase with a reasonable trade-in on your present box and no hidden charges, etc.

We believe that when you buy a Westinghouse you are getting the finest refrigerator in America. When you buy from McDonalds you are dealing with a company that has been in Bay St. Louis half a century. We finance appliances on a low rate and give excellent trade in allowances.

Big Sea In Y

Plans are being made to and improve the Sea Coast under its new management.

This is the first issue published by the new owners following purchase of the paper. The Publishing Corporation is the owner. Stan Opatowsky is president and Mel Opatowsky is secretary-treasurer.

Stan Opatowsky will be editor. Mel Opatowsky will be associate editor and business manager. Mrs. Grace Opatowsky, S. C. will serve as advertising saleswoman and Martha Opatowsky will be women's editor.

The mechanical staff and out-of-town correspondents will remain the same and when the paper was operated by Mrs. Favre and Miss Udell Favre.

The paper appears today with a new heading. The plans call for eventual installation of an electronic engraving machine. This will permit use of local news pictures. It will enable advertisers to use local pictures of their products at a cost of pennies.

Pending installation of equipment, which has been ordered, temporary plans have been made for use of nearby engraving facilities. So you'll see more local pictures in the Echo daily.

The Echo's associated businesses will remain the same. The printing facilities will be improved, and the Western Union office will remain. News facilities will be improved steadily. There will be greater number of features, and you will read of Br. Louis people away from home as well as those here.

Presidents and chairmen of civic organizations in Bay Louis, Pass Christian, Waveland, Long Beach, Lakeshore, Ocean Springs will be contacted for regular arrangements made for coverage of meetings and activities.

All persons are invited to submit news and social notes you think it belongs in the paper. Every call will be welcomed. Several new departments are being developed. Increased coverage will be given to sports, especially in both word and picture.

This is the 62nd year the Coast Echo has been published. It is one of the oldest in the South. It was founded by Charles G. Moreau, who died two weeks before the paper celebrated its 50th anniversary. He was succeeded by Alphonse G. Favre, who died November 22, 1947. Udell Favre edited the paper during Mr. Favre's death.

The Sea Coast Echo's circulation, a bit short of 3,000, is second largest on the Gulf Coast. Consequently, the paper is one of the best voices of the people and the business establishment of the area. Improved facilities could make it the foremost spokesman for the area.

Special Edition To Herald Bridge

The Sea Coast Echo will publish a special souvenir edition next week commemorating dedication of the new Bay Louis Bridge.

This edition will be a little like a wedding. There'll be something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue.

The "something old" will be stories of the old bridge, its dedication ceremonies in the 1920's, and the memories of the folks who have witnessed its life span.

The "something new" will be pictures of the new bridge and the story of its unique construction. You'll get the details straight from the supervising engineer of construction.

The "something borrowed" may be that's where you can find in. We'd like to borrow an old photograph that suits the occasion. We'd especially like one of dedication ceremonies of the old bridge. These pictures will be returned in the same condition we get them.

The "something blue" is the blues you'll sing as you pay the 25 cents toll. You'll read all the details on this, too. This special issue comes out next week.
